

Welcome to purrunna

Who are we?

We are an independent consultancy with a pool of highly skilled business and IT professionals. Our consultants all have a sound track record of using their extensive knowledge and expertise to deliver complex high profile business and IT programmes in blue-chip companies to demanding and sometimes immovable timescales.

We are:

- Independent of any vendor
- Results focused
- Flexible and responsive to your evolving needs

What do we do?

We use our extensive sourcing life cycle experience and impartiality to help clients make decisions on suppliers and solutions by:

- negotiating deals that are fair and sustainable
- managing solution delivery on time and to agreed budget
- amicably resolving client/ supplier issues
- developing and implementing effective client/ supplier governance

Why use purrunna?

Businesses today are under increasing pressure to evolve, optimise IT resources, reduce costs, manage a complex mix of suppliers effectively and deliver to timescales that are often outside of their immediate control. However, achieving long term business health requires balancing the pressures of speed and affordability with the quality and flexibility of solutions.

We are passionate about helping our clients meet the challenges and maximise the opportunities they face by offering solutions which can evolve with changing objectives and requirements over the life of any programme or solution.

Our advice and expertise can bring real and tangible benefits to your organisation no matter where you are in the sourcing lifecycle:

- scoping services to be tendered
- supplier selection
- negotiating contracts
- managing delivery to contract
- taking in-house services to the next level
